COMPANY PROFILE AND BACKGROUND

We proudly mention that we make truly international class jewelry. Our collection follows the principles and guidelines of the best quality standard in the world ... mainly Scandinavian / European.

Our entire manufacturing process is with a big difference, we make research based developments in terms of designs and products. Our process is a perfect fusion of both the best of hands and technology hence optimizing design output.

In terms of design, we make nouvelle products using the latest calibrated CAD/CAM technology along with laser cutting, marking and welding techniques. On polishing we use pneumatic polishers plus multimedia including manual polishing techniques.

We make jewelry for all occasions hence offering a wide spectrum to the interested and potential customers.

We are probably the only producers of platinum jewelry in northern India hence giving us an extra customer base and access.

We provide due quantity and quality in terms of weight, details and certification for all the precious metals, gemstones and diamonds besides the laboratory confirmation on NO USE of synthetics and CVDs.

More than just being a jewelry supplier we are a solution provider to our esteemed customers. We provide solutions to the emotional requirements of our esteemed clients. Based on this approach and service we started our venture in to jewelry 10 years back from nowhere and set up a success story. After graduating our basic setup to the latest one, we have now pioneered the entire art and science of the trade.

We are completely ready for a leap and expansion in real terms. Now that we are readily geared up with the creative, technical and commercial aspects of the trade, this is the opportunity to set up an example of perfect and fair business plan yielding success and identity. The challenge of being on the move constantly in all aspects right from design development to sourcing to manufacturing to selling to making a heart to heart connection with our friendly customer base keeps us always motivated and excited.
